"CARRIE NATION" GOES TO ORIENT

The "Carrie Nation" of Honolulu has departed for the Orient. She went away on the Hongkong Maru in the European steerage, and the chances are that the officers and passengers will have ample opportunity to make her acquaintance, whether they desire it or not. The local "Carrie Nation," as she is known on the waterfront and to captains and officers of many of the Pacific liners, has been a was never content to remain in one place very long, and the boarding-house keepers arrived at the same conclusion before she announced her intention of moving elsewhere, and a sigh of relief arose from the other boarders when the somewhat eccentric woman betook herself and belongings to another place. For the past two or three months the woman, who is a maiden on the shady side of fifty, has made up her mind that she must see the Orient, but there has never been a vessel which she was inspected which suited her until the Hongkong Maru came into port. She was charmed with Captain Filmer and with the officers, whom she said were the most gentlemanly and considerate she had ever met, and she engaged steerage passage at once. The waterfronters were greatly surprised when the erratic woman showed serself at the rail as the vessel moved away from the wharf last Wednesday, and a general farewell shout of "Good bye, Carrie, good bye," arose from the dock. Her experience with steamship captains has been amusing to those who have heard the stories. She went aboard the China when last here, and inspected the vessel from stem to stern. She ferretted out the stewardess and told her that the Japanese and Chinese steerage passengers were being smothered in the hold, and that such scenes were terrifying to her. She wanted to see Captain Seabury and was told he was asleep. Captain Seabury was awakened out of a sleep, into which he had fallen after thirty-six hours of wakefulness by the awe-inspiring female. She told him that he was commanding a vessel which harbored untold miseries, and that something must be done. It was. Captain Seabury had her ejected from the vessel instanter.

Carrie seemed to have a terror of stewardesses, for she invariably claimed to an officer that the stewardess was following her about the vessel and wanted her restrained. Just what wil' be done with Carrie on the Hongkong on a ten days' voyage between Honolulu and Yokohama is best imagined. She was told she would have the steerage all to herself and that no Asiatics ever came near the place. Upon this assurance, probably given her by a wag, she thought the Hongkong Maru was the only boat upon which she could travel without being assailed by scenes of horror which she had evidently concocted in her imaginative brain.

WILL LIVE IN YOKOHAMA. Capt Strong and Lady Francis Hope

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.-Yokohama advices received by steamer say that Major Putnam Bradlee Strong of New York, and Lady Francis Hope, better known as May Yohe, have arrived there under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. They were booked for Nagasaki.

Major Strong in an interview said: 'All this nonsense which has appeared about us in San Francisco and New York papers is absolutely false. I do not conceal my identity and admit freely that Lady Francis Hope is travelling with me. I intend to make her my wife. She is at present securing a divorce from her husband, Lord Francis.

"What do I intend to do? Well, I expect to remain in Japan indefinitely and after going as far as Nagasaki I shall return to Yokohama and take up my residence in the bluff." The bluff is where the foreigners live.

THE PROBLEM OF PAIN.

There is no person who has grown to mature years and experience who has not suffered aches and pains, which raised the question: "Why is pain permitted?" Generation after Generation after generation has asked that same question, sometimes in doubt, often in rebellion. But all speculation on the problem is valueless. The fact that faces us is that pain is here, ever present, ever powerful. The great question is not why pain is permitted, but how can pain be stopped. And it is at this point the savage steps in with his solution in the form of Kickapoo Indian Oil. No mater where the pain is located, or what the character of the pain, Indian Oil drives it away with a promptness and power possess-It is a specific for the cure of sick headache, that bane of the nervous. It overcomes rheumatic and neuralgic pains. It reduces inflammation, and heals strains, sprains and bruises. It is good for internal as well as external use, and cures cramps, colic, cholera morbus, and kindred ailments. equally effective for beast as it is for man, as can be proven by a single trial. This powerful remedy, in which emollients are blended with healing herbs and the essential strength of rare barks and roots, is the sole reliance of the sturdy Indian, both for himself and his pony. It is the product of centuries of experience and experiment, HOBRON DRUG COMPANY, agents for Kickapoo Medicines.
